

Coaching to Solutions MasterClass

Hilton Hotel Belfast

25th September 2008

Are you a HR Manager or Training and Development specialist who wants to develop your managers to coach, and needs good quality materials that you can deliver internally?

Are you a coach who wants to work in the corporate market as a developer of coaches?

The Offer

- An investment in your own development which you will quickly recoup.
- A take away of a package of materials which you can immediately use.
- The opportunity to work in a small group with personal attention from coaching expert Carole Pemberton.

Why You Should Join the Masterclass

You need a model and tools which enable you to design coaching inputs that are matched with the needs of your organisation and clients.

Developed by Carole Pemberton from her book Coaching to Solutions and her 20 years experience as a coach, consultant and researcher, the day will offer you:

- A model which works with organisational realities
- The principles of Solution Focussed coaching and their relevance to line manager coaches
- The tools of FAST coaching and the opportunity to try them out
- Modelling of work based coaching scenarios using the FAST coaching DVD
- The opportunity to identify the form of coaching programme that is right for your clients or organisation.

By attending the intensive one day programme you will receive

- An experiential learning packed day
- A copy of Coaching to Solutions - the best selling book on which the day is based
- A copy of the FAST coaching DVD which uses professional actors to model key coaching skills within a work environment
- A FAST Coaching CD containing trainers guide, participants workbook and powerpoint slides to enable you to deliver a 2 day coaching skills development programme
- A certificate which enables you to use the programme with your clients for life
- A follow up teleconference with Carole Pemberton to share learning and answer any questions that follow from using the materials.

This is the only time this Masterclass is being held in Ireland in 2008

Only 12 places are available so that participants get the maximum amount of attention.

The event will be held at the Hilton Hotel, Belfast, conveniently located in Belfast City Centre.
